Wouldn't you just love to have some private tuition ... Well now you can if you apply for our FREE BWR Scholarship.

The entry form is on our website, just fill in the application and follow the instructions and you could be the lucky artist to have one and a half days free private tuition with our selector Helen Dynes. Each artist (1 or 2 selected) will receive a materials voucher from Humanity Fine Arts to really get you started.

Alternatively you can buy a place at a one day Workshop with Helen Dynes.

Details of this is also on the website along with an application form. It is a limited places session so be quick to register. If over subscribed your entry fee will be refunded. This is another opportunity to increase your skill levels under the guidance of a very successful artist.

VOLUNTEERS

Without you the show doesn't go on. You are a vital part of our success and year after year we see the same faces stepping forward. So this is an appeal to all those artists who have hung back thinking they can't be of any help to us. You can, we can find jobs for those unable to stand for long periods - jobs those those who have to keep moving. We can find jobs for just about anyone willing to lend a hand. So if you think you can help us please give Sheryl Eustace a call or text message on; 021 183 1534

“It is crunch time! There are only two weeks to go before we start hanging paintings and on Wednesday (Yes, Wednesday) evening, Art HB will open its doors for the twelfth time.

A number of you have taken the opportunity to submit paintings early which is great! But of course, you can submit paintings until Sunday 18th of March, although earlier is better for the committee. We are looking forward to plenty of submissions, including schools and sculptures.

Please also pass the word on to apply for the BWR scholarship: One and a half days of free tuition by Helen Dynes, the 2018 painting selector. Make use of the opportunity; it is worth it!

You may also want to register for the workshop on Saturday, also by Helen Dynes. There are sufficient places left, so don't be shy.

Although a number of volunteers have registered with Sheryl Eustace, we still need a lot more to make the event a success. Please let us know when you can help; without our volunteers, nothing can happen!

We also would like to have some more donations for the silent auction for Cranford Hospice. So far, we have a number of paintings, a unique bottle of wine, a weekend in an air B&B, a travel voucher, vouchers for hairdressing, cinema tickets, restaurant vouchers etc. But we would like to see twice as much if possible; all to support Cranford Hospice.

MCL Construction is donating some new screens this year. What a great sponsor they are! It is all on!

Please remember to register for the scholarship, the workshop and for the exhibition.
See you at the exhibition!”
